PREGNANCY AND BABIES

Oliver with the ONE Group girls!—Kate, Kristy and Sharne

I recently had my first baby named Oliver! Throughout the whole pregnancy I used Rejuvenessence on my belly twice a day. It felt great & kept my skin in excellent condition. I did not get one stretch mark (my body was prone to getting them in the past) - I was so thrilled!! It's such a wonderful product.

Another must have product during pregnancy for me was In-Liven. I took it three times a day & felt absolutely fantastic. On the odd few days that I forgot to take it, I found my hips would ache at night. This was just another indicator of how much this probiotic does for your body. Needless to say, my baby is bright eyed, has perfect health & is bounding with energy. I know he is getting all the nourishment he needs from my organic diet & lots of In-Liven. There is no way I would go through a pregnancy without it. Thank you Czerral & ONE Group!

When I was pregnant the pigmentation in my skin around my face and under arms began to go dark. I was so embarrassed to raise my arms, the worse thing, I was pregnant during summer, so wearing singlets was a no no. Pregnancy brings out the beauty in some women, but, not under my arms. I became depressed until my best friend told me to go organic and to try Miessence. Wow, what a God Send! I was able to clean off the dark pigmentation and I have never gone back to any other deodorants. I highly recommend this product to all women who love to have beautiful skin.

I have been using the In-Liven probiotic regularly for 4 months now, since my daughter was a month old and began having colic.

I am breastfeeding and found that her colic symptoms improved greatly after about a week of my taking In-Liven. I have also lost around 15 kilos (from a size 16 down to a size 10), and no longer retain too much fluid since I started taking it. I have been overweight since my son was born 14 years ago and am feeling so much healthier and fitter now. Thanks for such a safe, healthy and effective product.

I just wanted to let you know of another fantastic reason to use IN-LIVEN. My daughter whom is teething has been getting dreadful nappy rash (4 teeth through and horrid nappy rash). Due to gastro going around town I increased the amount of IN-LIVEN the girls where having. Next thing I realise that 5 more teeth have come through (over 2 month period) not a sign of ANY nappy rash. I only realised that when I increased IN-LIVEN that the rash disappeared also, and we never got gastro in our house at all, even though most of the town I live in got it. Has to be the IN-LIVEN. Thank you very much.

The concealers are the best thing I have found in my experience in getting rid of nappy rash (yes, better than Aloe or Paw Paw!). By the next nappy change it has disappeared all together (no, that's not because it's hiding under the concealer!). Even commercial zinc creams which have only used once don't work that well. The only thing is that it's a really EXPENSIVE way of getting rid of it :) hope you may include this in a baby range soon.

Also, any chance of a handbag size Intensive Body Lotion as we are all washing our moisturiser bottles out and filling them up?
